Let's Start!

You should put some ice on it right away.

Learning Outcome

Exchange advice and suggestions in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What is the worst injury you've had?
- What did you do when you hurt yourself?
- How did you treat your injury?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about injuries, accidents and health care.
- I can ask for help.
- I can give advice.

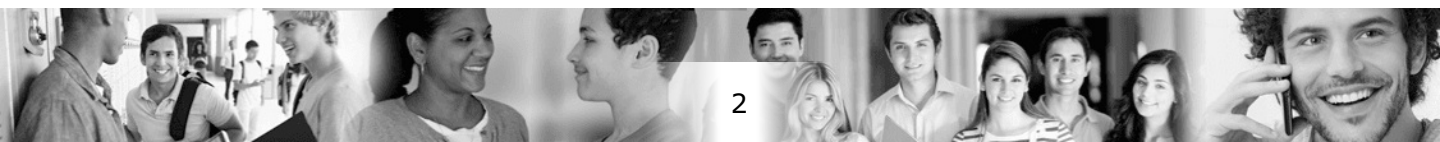

Let's Explore!

Sally asks the clerk for ice. What advice does the clerk give?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: How are your thumb and foot, V?
- Vanessa: Not so good ... my thumb is quite swollen. I think I have a lump on my foot. These bowling shoes offer no protection whatsoever!
- Sally: Well, you'll definitely have a nice bruise tomorrow. You should put some ice on it right away.
- Vanessa: Ice? Where I am supposed to get ice?
- Sally: OK, calm down. I'll be back.
- Sally: Excuse me, can you show me how to use the ice machine?
- Clerk: Wow. Nobody ever uses that. Let me show you how to get ice from the drink dispenser.
- Sally: That's a great idea! My friend hurt herself. She dropped a ball on her foot.
- Clerk: Ouch. Yeah, that hurts. She had better put her foot up to reduce the swelling.
- Sally: OK, I'll let her know. Thanks.
- Sally: Here, V. You ought to put this ice on your thumb and elevate your foot.
- Vanessa: OK. Your turn to bowl.
- Sally: Here goes nothing! Look! A baby split!
- Vanessa: Can you tell me what that means?
- Sally: It means that I'll knock all the pins down next ball.
- Vanessa: Well, good for you. Don't trip!
- Sally: Someone sounds jealous!

Let's Practice!

Asking for Help

There are several ways to ask for help in English. You can use polite and casual language to do this. Let's look at one particular structure for asking for help.

You can use the structure

Can/Could + you + show/tell + me + Question word

Can you show me how to position myself?

Could you tell me where to stand?

Can you tell me how the lessons work?

Could you show me what I have to do?

Can you tell me who that person is?

Can/Could	you	show/tell	me	Question word
Could	you	tell	me	what time it is, please?
Can	you	show	me	how to use this?
Could	you	show	me	where the washroom is?
Can	you	tell	me	when the next train is?

You can also use the structure

Let me show/tell + you + question word

Let me show you how to get the ice from the drink dispenser.

Let me show you where it is.

Let me tell you what you should do.

Learning Points

Giving Advice

You use modals to give advice.

The most common modals for giving advice are:
should, ought to and had better.

You can think of modals as “helping verbs”. They add meaning to the main verb of a sentence. In this case, these modals add the meaning of advice.

Should is the most common modal used to give advice.
Ought to and had better are used for giving strong advice.

Subject	Modal	Main Verb
You	should	put	some ice on it right away.
You	ought to	put	this ice on your thumb.
You	had better not	step	on the line.

- In conversation, it is common to use contractions with had better.

You'd better not step on the line.

Examples:

- You should put some ice on it right away.
- You ought to put this ice on your thumb and elevate your foot.
- She had better put her foot up to reduce the swelling.
